

Recruitment of an Emergency Sanitation Researcher Post (Oxford, UK based)

Posted by jennylamb - 20 Dec 2012 12:27

The WASH team here within Oxfam have launched a post for the recruitment of an emergency sanitation researcher, which would be based here in Oxford. This is an exciting and unique post for Oxfam, and the wider WASH sector - to research into ways in which we can increase our effectiveness in responding to sanitation during emergencies.

Please see attached the JD - please feel free to circulate wider to other WASH people.

The igrasp number on the Oxfam website is INT5900, and the closing date is the 5th of January 2013.

All the best, and see you in 2013.

Thanks,

Jenny

Let me re-iterate that the idea with these job ads is NOT that people post their CVs here in the forum. It is just to alert you about a job opening. Please follow the usual application procedures as specified in the job ad. Do not expect OXFAM to monitor this space and to contact you if you post your CV here.

Regards,

Elisabeth
